

MESSAGE

My heartiest greetings to the Defence Accounts Department on its Annual Day. The Department has helped the Indian Army in achieving the organizational objective of ensuring the safety and security of the Nation.

DAD plays a vital role in motivation and welfare of the troops and their families. Sustained interaction over the years has paved way for a meaningful collaboration between DAD and the Indian Army. We need to make further efforts for smoothening the process, enhanced synergy, meeting the aspirations of service personnel and speedy implementation of Government orders. As we transit towards further digitization including web based interactive pension disbursement system, let us rededicate ourselves to achieving greater efficiency in these procedures. I am glad to note that COVID-19 has not dampened and deterred the working spirit of the Department.

I sincerely hope that our shared journey ahead will enable a motivated and strong Army. I once again convey my congratulations to the entire DAD fraternity.
