MESSAGE

On the occasion of the Defence Accounts Department (DAD) Annual Day, I extend warm greetings and felicitations to all Officers and Staff of the DAD.

Finance is an integral component of operational capability development for the Armed Forces. For the Navy in particular, as a technology intensive service, fiscal prudence is a crucial enabler to optimise resources and develop comprehensive capabilities across the spectrum of conflict.

In this endeavour, the DAD has been our trusted partner, providing financial advice, extending accounting services and supporting financial audits, across the entire gamut of diversified fiscal responsibilities of the Navy. Maximising fiscal potential and adherence to financial canons, duly supported by the DAD, have enabled the Indian Navy's operational capability development, as also INs drive towards indigenisation. We look forward to continued partnership with the DAD to progress impetus to 'ease of doing business', as also integrating technology for greater functional efficiency and timely fiscal management.

On behalf of all ranks of the Indian Navy, I convey best wishes to the Defence Accounts Department for future endeavours, and wish the CGDA and his team 'Fair Winds and Following Seas'!
