D.O. No. T-31014/1/2022-NGC

Dated: 07th July, 2023

Dear Madam,

Greetings from the Lal Bahadur Shastri National Academy of Administration, Mussoorie.

As you are aware, the Academy through its Centres of excellence has been striving to foster knowledge creation and dissemination among relevant stakeholder. Recognizing the significance of documenting this knowledge, the Academy is making it accessible not only in the physical but in the digital realm too. This transition from physical to digital platforms has allowed us to reach a wider audience and enhance the accessibility of valuable resources.

The National Gender and Child Centre, as a prominent center within the Academy, has been at the forefront of conducting trainings, workshops, and research in the fields of gender sensitization and child rights. It has played a pivotal role in shaping policies and programs to ensure the welfare and protection of children.

I am pleased to inform you about the launch of an "Online Course on Child Rights with a special focus on Juvenile Justice Act, 2015," by the Honourable Minister of Women and Child Development, Ms. Smriti Irani, during the regional symposium organized by the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights, attended by over 500 stakeholders from 7 states on 2nd July at Vigyan Bhawan. The said course has been designed and curated by the National Gender and Child Centre (NGCC) in collaboration with the Ministry of Women and Child Development and is now hosted on the "iGOT" platform as part of the 'Mission Karmayogi'.

In her address, the Honourable Minister appreciated the Academy for creating the course, referring to it as one of the valuable contributions to the sector. This recognition underscores the importance and relevance of the course in addressing the challenges related to child rights and the effective implementation of the Juvenile Justice Act, 2015.
